MEET OUR SESSION LEADERS

SAVANNAH BULLARD is in her third year at The University of Alabama. She is a scholastic journalism veteran who competed and taught at ASPA events throughout high school, winning awards in all forms of media including ASPA's 2016 Rick Bragg Award for Feature Writing. She enjoys designing beautiful art, advocating for the environment, writing courtesy emails and making spreadsheets. Savannah lives in Tuscaloosa with her boyfriend and their cat where she works as the lead page designer for The Crimson White, is a digital reporter for WVUA 23 and serves as a justice on the Academic Honor Council for the College of Communication and Information Sciences.

MEREDITH CUMMINGS, MJE, has 25 years of experience in print, web and multimedia reporting. She is Immediate Past President of Alabama Media Professionals and the Society of Professional Journalists Alabama Professional Chapter. She advises the Capstone Association of Black Journalists and directs the Alabama Scholastic Press Association and National Elementary Schools Press Association. She is a member of SPJ's Journalism Education Committee. She blogs for Medium.com and supervises Editing and Digital production for The University of Alabama's Department of Journalism and Creative Media in the WVUA 23 newsroom.

ANGELA FLOWERS is a current senior who is majoring in communications with a concentration in radio TV/film production at Alabama State University. She is the lead anchor for ASU Hornet News and also wrote for the university's student newspaper, the Hornet Tribune. In her spare time, Angela enjoys hiking, traveling and going to concerts.

BOBBY MATHEWS is a freelance writer whose byline has appeared in the Birmingham News, the Atlanta Journal-Constitution, the Richmond Times-Dispatch, the Denver Post, and other newspapers across the United States. He spent a 15-year stint as a reporter and editor for daily newspapers in Alabama, Georgia and Wyoming and has won multiple awards for his sports reportage and humorous columns. His fiction writing has appeared in magazines like Southern Discoveries, Buzzwords and the Alabama Literary Review. Now, he lives in Birmingham, Alabama with his wife and children.
